FIFTH THIRD

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA)

At Fifth Third, we're grateful for the people who protect our freedoms each day. That's why we want to assist you in understanding your rights under the Servicemember Civil Relief Act (SCRA). The SCRA allows members of the armed forces to devote their full attention to their military responsibilities by easing certain financial obligations.

If you're a qualified individual under federal (or state) law and request SCRA benefits, you may be eligible for certain benefits and protections on the following products:

- Lines of credit, credit cards, and installment loans
- Mortgage and home equity secured loans
- Safe deposit boxes

Benefits

- Interest Rate Limits: If you opened a Fifth Third Bank mortgage, loan, line of credit, or credit card prior to being called to active duty, SCRA allows a cap of 6% on the interest rate while you are on active duty.
- Foreclosure/Repossession Protection: If you're having difficulty paying your loan, SCRA may protect you from foreclosure or repossession.
- Mortgage: If you have a mortgage, there may be other alternatives besides foreclosure available to you. Contact the Mortgage Default Counseling Team at 877-899-0815, option 3 for assistance.
- Auto Loan: If you have an auto loan and you're concerned about repossession, contact us at 866-601-6391 so we can help.
- Fee Protection: If you opened a Fifth Third Bank mortgage, loan, line of credit, or credit card prior to being called to active duty, all fees will be waived while you are on active military service.
- Safe Deposit Box: Fifth Third will not open your safe deposit box or claim any right to the contents of your safe deposit box without a court order. This protection lasts throughout the term of your active military service and for an additional six (6) months after your service ends.

How to apply

To request SCRA benefits, you need to provide a copy of your enlistment orders or military orders calling you to active duty service OR a letter on official letterhead from your commanding officer. Though not required to receive benefits, if you have a Power of Attorney (POA) or written authorization of a designee to handle your financial affairs, you should also provide this documentation.
